Today, the presence of Information & Communication Technologies (ICT) has become a necessity. In this time, these technologies have altered the ways we communicate, work, learn and play. All these ways have been enhanced and these enhancement have had impacts, so that, now, the method in which affairs are conducted, the means by which organizations evolve and the ways in which relationships are established, have all become optimized. But here in Bangladesh we are far behind from the up to date touch of such technologies.

With no defined structure and inadequate support, Bangladeshi companies or organizations are finding it difficult to keep abreast of these new technologies. This situation is further compounded when some private organizations, which provide technological solutions for their clients, do so with out of date and defunct technologies.

To resolve this dilemma, SMART Technologies (BD) Ltd was established in 1998 to offer complete technological solutions with the most up to date and recent technologies. STBL's dedicated staffs are proficient in different aspect of information and communication technologies. From different hardware and operating system platforms, to complex network configuration, SMART's team will endeavor to provide the best and most recent technological solution that is within the client's budget.

STBL, in its 17 years of business experience has gathered immense reputation in hardware goods, maintenance of computer accessories, network setup. Innovative business approach, foresight, sustainability, resource mobilization, quality assurance and superior service have been the factors of our success. During these years, Bangladesh and the world has undergone political, social, and economical changes which transformed the business scenario to much more of aggressive, fast and professional competence which the group had to commensurate to survive and succeed.
